1. How we use your personal information

If you provide information to us or through a third party, this will be held by Tandridge District Council (TDC). This privacy notice is to let you know how we look after your personal information. This includes what you tell us about yourself, what we learn by having you as a customer and the choices you give us about what communications we may send to you. This notice also tells you about your privacy rights and how the law protects you.

2. Data protection law and you

The General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) exists to ensure we process your information in a manner which is lawful, only if we have a proper reason to do so and we keep you informed of what we do with your information.

If we have a business reason to process your information, to offer you goods or services this is referred to as Legitimate Interest. We also have certain legal obligations where we must process your information. Where neither of these apply we will ask your permission (consent) to collect the information and inform you how it will be used. We can also process your information under any contractual obligation if a formal contract exists.

3. How we collect your information

We collect your information from various sources, including our website, third parties we engage with to offer services, paper forms, correspondence, telephone & e-mail.

9. How long we keep your information for

We will keep your personal information in line with our published Record Retention and Disposal Scheme. The reasons we keep your information for are:

- To offer our goods and services to you.
- To respond to a question or complaint.
- To analyse the quality of the services we offer.
- To obey rules and legal obligations which apply to us about keeping records.

We may also keep your data for longer than stated if we cannot delete it for legal, regulatory or technical reasons.

As an example, we must hold tenant information indefinitely to support Right to Buy applications.

10. Your rights as an individual

Under the General Data Protection Regulation, you have certain rights as an individual. Details of your rights can be found below. In all cases see the How to Contact Us section at the bottom of this page to enact the relevant right.

Identification Requirements

For all the rights below and fraud prevention, the first check we must make is to satisfy ourselves you are who you say you are. We will take necessary steps on a case by case basis to ensure we have obtained necessary identification before proceeding with any request.

Right to complain

You have a right to complain in relation to data privacy, if you are not happy with how we have processed your information. You also have the right to lodge a complaint with the regulator. In the UK the regulator is the Information Commissioner's Office and you can report a concern to them (<https://ico.org.uk/concerns/>)

Right to Access

You have a right to request a copy of the information that we hold about you.

Right to Portability

You have a right to request a copy of your information in a format that can be taken to a supplier which is offering related services to us to enable you to switch to them as a service provider where applicable.

Right to Withdraw Consent

Where we have asked and you have given consent, you have at any time the right to withdraw consent.

Right to Rectification

If your information is incorrect, you have a right to request we correct this in our systems.

Right to Erasure

If we do not have a Legal Basis, obligation or purpose to keep your information, you will have a right to ask us to delete the information we hold about you.

Right to Object or Restrict Processing

If you believe the information we hold about you is incorrect, or we are making automated decisions using your information, you have the right to object to the processing until any concerns have been addressed.

11. Cookies

Cookies are small computer files that get sent down to your PC, tablet or mobile phone by websites when you visit them. They stay on your device and get sent back to the website they came from, when you go there again. Cookies store information about your visits to that website, such as your choices and other details. Some of this data does not contain personal details about you or your business, but it is still protected by this Privacy notice.

To find out more about how we use cookies, please see our Cookies Policy.

12. CCTV

Tandridge District Council CCTV Systems are used for maintaining the security of property and premises and for preventing and detecting crime. The key objectives of their use are:

- Protecting areas and premises used by the public;
- Deterring and detecting crime;
- Assisting in the identification of offenders leading to their arrest and successful prosecution;
- Reducing anti-social behaviour;
- Reducing fear of crime;
- Encouraging use of the Councils facilities.

For these reasons the information processed may include visual images, personal appearance and behaviours. This information may be about staff, customers and clients, offenders and suspected offenders, members of the public and those inside, entering or in the immediate vicinity of the area under surveillance. Where necessary or required this information is shared with the data subjects themselves, employees and agents, services providers, police forces, security organisations and persons making an enquiry.

We respect and support the individual's entitlement to go about their lawful business and this is a primary consideration in the operation of the systems. Cameras deployed under the Regulation of Investigatory Powers Act are subject to legislative restrictions. To find out more about how we use CCTV, please see <https://www.tandridge.gov.uk/Your-council/Crime-and-safety/CCTV>
